Dear Sir:

Some time ago the Institute was presented with a collection of old gold and silver Japanese coins, nicely mounted and framed, but for which we do not have any particular use in our work. It occurs to me that possibly you may be interested in this small collection and, if so, we shall be pleased to donate it to your society.

Yours truly,

Edward M. Van Cleve

Dear Sir:

Replying to your kind favour of April 16th, we should be very glad indeed to accept the collection of Japanese gold and silver ~~electro~~types of coins mounted and framed, about which you write. As a matter of fact, our Society possesses none of these framed sets and this collection would be most welcome. Thank you very much for your thought of our Society.

Would it be more convenient to you for us to send for this gift to the Society at any time you may appoint?

Again thanking you, I am

Very truly yours,

Curator
